HUNTINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

Moments to Remember...

FOREWORD

From May 1919 until May 1957 many seniors have recalled the privileges and happy memories which this high school represents. Through our four years of high school, we seniors of 1957 have had many pleasant experiences, some of which we would like to share with you in the pages of this 1957 Modulus.

Mr. Burton Stephan

Superintendent

The schools of Huntington have been fortunate in having Mr. Burton Stephan as their superintendent for the past sixteen years. Although his office is located in Huntington High School, he visits all the schools in the city several times each year. One of his many duties is to put into operation and administer effectively the policies adopted by the Huntington School Board. Through his capability the schools of Huntington have greatly increased their standards to the point where they can be justly proud.

Mr. Milton Marx

School Board

The School Board, appointed on a rotation basis for a term of three years by the City Council, as a unit, acts as an advisory committee and establishes policies for the school system. The Board delegates the executive duties of the school system to the Superintendent, Mr. Stephan. The present members are Milton Marx, president; Dale Updike, treasurer, and Mrs. Heinz Bostel, secretary.

Mrs. Heinz Bostel

Mr. Dale Updike

Principal

Anyone wondering about the wonderful efficiency and co-ordination of our high school needs only to look as far as the principal's department. Mr. Johnson, the capable principal of our high school, keeps the student body as well as the faculty running smoothly. Yet, in spite of his many duties and obligations, he always finds time to discuss problems with students and faculty alike. Our high school under his expert guidance and administration can never fail in any feat it attempts to accomplish.

Mr. Harold S. Johnson

Secretaries

We want to express our gratitude to our three efficient secretaries—Miss Fredith Langley, Mrs. Betty Williams, and Miss Sally Shroyer—for their kind, generous assistance during the academic year.

Among their many varied duties are bookkeeping, typing, and also, in addition to being efficient secretaries, they are cheerful, alert, and helpful in solving the problems of many students.

Custodians

Huntington High School's custodians are the people behind the scenes. During the course of the day, they quietly perform their tasks so that we may be proud of our school.

Everyone's friend is Charlie Thompson. Bob Swearer performs many various tasks, while Bob Pollock is only on duty in the afternoon. Last but not least is the chief custodian, Paul Minniear. These men are the ones who keep our school in tip top condition, and we would like to take this opportunity to thank them.

Bob Pollock

Cafeteria Staff

Huntington High School students should feel privileged to be eating in the pleasant atmosphere of our cafeteria. Not many of us stop to realize how much work is involved in the preparation of lunches for the hungry student body.

Our dietitian, Mrs. Doyle Smith, and the cooks, Mrs. Theodore Bond, Mrs. Meredith Dolby, Mrs. Lewis Knight, and Mrs. J. L. Motz, are to be complimented for their fine work.

Left to Right: Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Dolby, Mrs. Bond, Mrs. Motz.

Senior Officers

Facing the juniors each spring is the selection of Senior Class officers for the following year. These four people must carry the responsibilities for the financial success of the Senior Class at H.H.S. To our four officers this year—Kenneth Law, president; Dick Mitchell, vice-president; Jerry Holtrey, secretary, and Dede Williams, treasurer—we would like to extend a big "thank you for a job well done."

Senior Sponsors

Not for another four years. Yes, not for another four years will seniors have Miss Jennie B. Wilson and Mr. Robert Diffenbaugh as class sponsors. "Jennie B." and "Diffie," as they are known to us, absorbed the headaches of our Senior Play, Spring Green, and Commencement. They taught us that as graduating seniors we must begin to accept the responsibilities of the world. May we say, "Good luck and may God bless you, Jennie B. and Diffie."

Junior Officers

The young people you saw at Kriegbaum Field during football season and Community Gym during basketball season were members of the hard-working Junior Class. Their motive was to give an unforgettable Junior-Senior Reception and Baccalaureate services for the seniors this year and still have enough money in the treasury for a gift to present to the school next year. This class could not have run as efficiently if it would not have been for the officers—John Ziegler, president; Phillip Kriegbaum, vice-president; Ann Ade, secretary; Joyce Lockhart, treasurer, and the new officer—concession manager—held by John Bell.

enjoyed every minute of it. Yes, we added a lot to our "Moments to Remember" in this—our junior year.

Mr. Leslie Wilbern, Mr. Dale Ware

Junior Sponsors

Concessions, Junior-Senior Reception, and Baccalaureate are three of the many responsibilities of our junior sponsors. They must adjust the pros and cons of our committees and advise us in such a way that we take their advice but think it was our idea. Mr. Dale Ware and Mr. Leslie Wilbern assumed the responsibility of advising us, and through their advice our class was a success. For this we sincerely thank them.

In addition to enjoying the auditorium programs, decorating the Christmas tree in second floor hall, seeing the snow come and go, watching the annual Christmas program, and for some, attending the Home Economics Christmas Tea, students of HHS kept busy during this Christmas season with their numerous personal activities.

FRESHMAN

Officers and Sponsors

First Row: Susan Buzzard, Janet Shroyer.
Second Row: John Owen, Kenneth Tewel.

After the hub-bub and general confusion during the first few weeks of school finally subsided, the freshmen soon settled down to a comparatively calm year at H.H.S. The newcomers chose as their class officers Kenneth Tewel, president; John Owen, vice-president; Jane Shroyer, secretary, and Susan Buzzard, treasurer. The sponsor for the class was Miss Carolyn Reynolds.

SOPHOMORE Officers and Sponsors

Although the sophomores have not risen to a high degree of prominence as yet, there is still plenty of time for them to move forward. To inaugurate their second year at H.H.S. the sophomores chose their class officers who were Bill Watrous, president; Bill Marks, vice-president; Barbara Schell, secretary, and Joan Myers, treasurer. Miss Hanson was their trusted and tried sponsor.

Our Senior Play, Spring Green,

On November 27, 1956, the cast of the senior play of the Class of '57 made its debut in the high school auditorium. It presented the comedy Spring Green with all its unique characters and situations.

Spring Green is the story of Nina Castle, her family, Major Michael Todd, and his son, Newton. Many amusing situations arose because of Newton's worm breeding, and Mr. Putnam's bellowing. In addition to the amusing situations, it also contained an occasional serious note.

As usual, there was the natural nervous tension backstage; but as the play progressed, the tension faded.

The Class of '57 will always be thankful to Mr. Diffenbaugh, Miss Wilson, and Mrs. Patterson for their untiring efforts to make this memorable play possible.

Senior Queen

Several girls aspire to be Senior Queen each year but only one can become queen. This year Miss Dianne Guest was chosen queen. Her escort was David Gerdes. Dianne accepted her gift with a happy but humble heart as she thanked her sellers and expressed regrets and congratulations to her runners-up.

Senior Queen's Court

Courteousness is the virtue shown by runners-up in any endeavor. The queen's court revealed a high degree of courtesy. These girls were Phyllis DeSpain, escorted by Bill Smith; Janet Thorn, escorted by Rich Meier; Sharyon Tappero, escorted by Duane Gearhart; Anna Elser, escorted by Walt Hunnicutt; and Donna Trout, escorted by Fred Teddy.

W.V.S.H., The Voice of the Schools of Huntington

We hear the voice of the announcer say, "This is WVSH, the Voice of the Schools of Huntington." To those of us who have enjoyed ball games, concerts, or educational programs in our homes this is doubtless familiar. WVSH is on the air approximately four hours each school day.

Live programs are produced by students in a radio workshop class which is conducted by Mr. Imhoof. An innovation of this class is "Classroom on the Air" produced in cooperation with the teachers of the school.

Audio Visual—Stagecraft in two forms

The Audio-Visual Department, under Mr. McCabe Day's leadership, is the busiest division of education at H.H.S. This department is responsible for the sound systems at Kriegbaum Field and Community Gym.

Serving as period supervisors, students learn the operation of sound systems, stage equipment, phonographs, tape recorders, motion pictures, slide, and filmstrip projectors.

Awards, which are given on the basis of years of service, are gold medals for four years; silver for three years; major letters for two years; and minor letters for one year.

Masque & Gavel

Masque & Gavel enjoyed a successful year under Mr. Imhoof's sponsorship. Employing their motto, "Speech for Use," they presented plays for civic organizations, provided announcement committees, and held religious programs. The officers were Cynthia McClure, president; Suzanne Moffitt, religious vice-president; Don Passwater, program vice-president; and Dede Williams, secretary-treasurer.

Junior Rotary honors male citizens of tomorrow.

Each month of the school year, one HHS senior boy who is outstanding in his class is chosen by the Rotary Club to be the Junior Rotarian of the Month.

The boy attends the weekly luncheons of the club during the month he has been chosen for this honor.

Junior Rotarians this year were Pete Petrie, October; Kenny Law, November; Dick Mitchell, December; Richard Meier, January; Jim Gordon, February; Emil Gies, March; Jerry Holtrey, April; and Charles Johnson, May.

Foremen are future industrial leaders.

The Foremen in Mr. Burke's woodshop this year have been Rex Solloway, October; Jarold Brown, November; John Mettler, December; Roger Chambers, January; David Gerdes, February; Tom Wilbur and Don Passwater, April; and Jack Young (assistant), May.

First Row: John Mettler, Jack Young, Don Passwater, Roger Chambers. Second Row: Mr. Burke, Jarold Brown, Dave Gerdes, Tom Wilbur, Rex Solloway.

Student Council

Meeting with Mr. Johnson, our principal, twice each month, the student council discusses school problems. The council consists of two student representatives elected from each home room.

This organization sponsors many beneficial projects for the student body, such as "Share the Fare," the money-raising project for foreign students.

This year's officers were Robert Petrie, president; Kenneth Law, vice-president; Joanna Allen, secretary; and Mike Thomas, treasurer.

Row 1: Kenny Law, Jim Myers, Jane Guhl, Bill Marks, Phil Schilling, Mike Thomas.
Row 2: Barbara Morris, Jeanine Sunderman, Ron Divelbiss, Bob Busick, Pete Petrie.

Actuarie

When the students of HHS enter the library, they are neither confused nor bewildered because of the expert assistance given them. Yes, those efficient girls who help everyone in the library are Actuarie members. The purpose of Actuarie is to make the library a useful servant to all students.

The 1956-57 officers were Rosalind Howett, president; Carole Beerbower, vice-president; and Janelle Burkhart, secretary-treasurer. The club is sponsored by Miss Carolyn Reynolds.

The social activities this year included a Fall Picnic in September, a Christmas Party, and a Spring Reception in April honoring the mothers of the members and women faculty members.

Booster Club

The Booster Club is composed of forty-five members from the upper three classes of H.H.S. Their aim is to keep our school spirit high. The main activity of the organization is to send busses to the out-of-town football and basketball games.

Officers for the year were Lee Baker, president; Stan Robinson, vice-president; and Jo Ann Kriegbaum, secretary-treasurer. H. B. Williams was the sponsor.

First Row: Joyce Lockhart, Holly Ridgeway, Doug Gemmer, Tom Sands, Lee Baker, Stan Robinson, Phil Wasmuth, Joanna Allen, Polly Palmer.

Biology Club

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Hummer and Mr. Goshorn, the Biology Club meets on the third Thursday of every month. Its purpose is to further the students' knowledge in science. In order to be eligible for the club, a pupil must have carried at least a "B" average in biology. Names are put into a box, and the candidates are voted upon by old members.

To conclude an eventful year, the organization takes an annual two-day trip to some spot of scientific interest.

This year's officers were Suzanne Moffitt, president; Donna Daly, vice-president; Martha Hudson, secretary; and Joyce Lockhart, treasurer.

First Row: Sandra Amick, Joyce Lockhart, Holly Ridgeway, Doug Gemmer, Bob Branyan, Jerry Holtrey, Clarice Williams.
Second Row: Jean Coates, JoAnn Kriegbaum, Joanna Allen, Martha Hudson, Sandra Greider, Judy Ellet, Donna Daly, Donna Kastner, Carolee Atkinson.

BAND

The band has had a busy year under the direction of Mr. Delmar Weesner. Thinking back to the fall evenings of football, we remember their clever formations and precise drill marching at half time which took many hours of hard practice. When basketball season arrived, we found them at Community Gym in bright red sweaters to match the mood they produced with their rousing marches and hit tunes.

October 15 found them marching down Jefferson Street in the Court House Anniversary Parade. Then along with eighty-one other bands they participated in the half-time show at the annual Purdue Band Day.

This year the Student Band Council was instituted to make a more effective band organization. Two members from each class are chosen for this council.

Many soloists and ensembles won high honors at the district and state music contests in February. These groups performed for different civic groups during the year.

They played at various grade schools, presented an auditorium, and held their annual spring concert for the public.

As a fitting climax for the year the band travelled to the band contest at Griffith on April 13 to compete with other schools of Northern Indiana. They received a high rating just as they have in previous years. The band sponsored a magazine campaign and plan to use a portion of these profits for a trip this summer.

Modulus Queen gains success through industry

Miss Janiece Smith is very deserving of her hard-earned title, Miss Modulus, 1957. She worked hard at selling tickets for the Revue during the arduous campaign. However, she could not do the job alone. She had many helpful sellers who worked equally hard.

We would like to thank Janiece for her toil.

Runners-up worked hard to make Revue a success.

Modulus Queen's Court

Many girls have hoped to attain the coveted position of "Miss Modulus" in past years. Although all the girls worked ardently only one can win. The ladies-in-waiting for 1957 were Ann Hiatt, Rose Kelsey, Frances McBay, and Karen Neterer.

Seated: Bonnie Caley, Sandra Greider, Mary Lou Fluke, Joanna Allen, Sue Kiefer, Elizabeth Weger, Ann Ade, Jean Coates, Carolee Atkinson, Holly Ridgeway.
Standing: Becky Fulton, Jean Carroll, Sharyon Tappero, Judy Musser, Linda Ware, Carol Houser, Polly Palmer, JoAnn Kriegbaum, Judy Burman, Ruth Glass.

"Serenade To You" combined many talents and abilities

Jim Weber

Precisely at 8 p.m. on March 20, 1957, the Modulus Revue Orchestra started to play dreamy music appropriately entitled "Serenade to You." The rising curtains gave the audience its first glimpse of the 1957 Modulus Revue. After the opening number, however, the orchestra quickly changed its tune and stepped into a lively number, "Prom Jump."

This year Mrs. Walter Young, a newcomer, was general director and was assisted by Mr. Day, Mr. Slater, and Miss Oyer. We have much for which to thank them. The audience was entertained between acts by master of ceremonies James Gordon.

Good talent was evident in all acts. As a special feature, Mr. Eiffel Plasterer blew his famous soap bubbles for the background of one of the three dance choruses.

The hard task of selling tickets done by the queen candidates was evident by the capacity crowds. We are proud to have as our 1957 Modulus Queen, Janiece Smith.

All in all, the 1957 Modulus Revue left us with pleasant memories.

International Program furthers world relations.

Each year the American Field Service sponsors a student from Europe, Asia, or South America for a school year in the United States. This year Huntington High School was fortunate in receiving Richard Meier from Zurich, Switzerland. Rich, a very capable student, was loved by all.

Robert Petrie, a senior at H.H.S. spent the preceding summer in Europe. He, too, lived in Switzerland and took many enlightening trips throughout Europe.

Each year a junior is eligible to spend the summer in Europe. This year Joyce Lockhart will represent Huntington High School on her trip abroad.

The Choir's music created spirit and mood

The Huntington High School Choir had another spectacular year under the able direction of Mr. Cloyde Slater and with the help of Clarice Williams, its accompanist. As they have done every year, the members of the choir sang at the four grade schools of the city, presented their two public concerts in the school auditorium, sang at the Good Friday services and the Sunrise Service at Easter, made their one-day tour to other cities, and sang at Baccalaureate.

During these concerts the choir wore their traditional red robes and black stoles with the red letters "H.H.S." embroidered on them.

This year the choir sponsored a vigorous fund-raising campaign by selling pens to raise money which was put aside along with its other funds for the purpose of purchasing new robes.

The choir would never be capable of creating such high choral standards without the aid and patience of its director, Cloyde Slater.

Sunshine Officers: Joanna Allen, Barbara Schell, Jane Guhl, Susanne Chalfant, Jean Coates.

Sunshine Society sponsored many activities during school year.

Sunshine Society was guided during 1956-57 by Jane Guhl, president; Susanne Chalfant, vice-president; Jean Coates, treasurer; Barbara Schell, corresponding secretary; Joanna Allen, recording secretary; and Miss Alice Kline, sponsor.

The organization consists of the girls of HHS, and is based upon self-sacrifice and friendliness to other girls in the school. The motto is "Others"; the creed is "With love in my heart, forgetting self, and with charity for all, I will make the object of my life helpfulness and kindness to others. I shall try to fit myself to give intelligent service in making my community a safer and more beautiful place in which to live. Thus will my own life become rich and complete."

M.M.S. was headed by Linda Ware with Mr. Buzzard as sponsor. They handled our major dances.

Gales made Easter eggs; Miss Kline sponsored.

Big and Little Sisters, headed by Miss Kline and Janet Rice, made the freshmen feel welcome.

Social Service Sunbeams was headed by Carole Beerbower and sponsored by Miss Sees. These girls cheered the sick and aged.

Mary White Guild, with Mary Chambers and Donna Gemmer as chairmen and Mrs. Porter as sponsor, planned our Holy Week Services.

Halloween Dance strikes up eerie atmosphere.

All the ghosts and goblins were out on the evening of October 29, 1956, from 9 to 12 P.M. at the Masonic Temple, where the annual Halloween Dance was being held.

Paper owls, cats, and bats, hung from the ceilings and posts, greeted the couples as they came into the ballroom.

As is the custom each year, a mixer dance was held. In this dance you draw a paper and must dance with the person who has the corresponding paper. This dance and the many other delightful dances were accompanied by Dick Krieg's Orchestra. Everyone agreed that a more enjoyable evening was never found.

Sweetheart Dance brought Cupid's arrows early.

This year's Sweetheart Dance, held February 9, had an enchanting glow. The M.M.S. Committee was responsible for the successful evening.

The Masonic Temple was embedded with silver foil hearts, sparkling cupids, personal valentine cards, and a glittering "Dancing in the Dark with You" was placed above the orchestra of Jimmy Stier.

The trip through the heart highlighted the evening. The president of Sunshine, Jane Guhl, and her escort, Phil Young, were the first to determine their fate. They were followed by the other one hundred seventy-three couples.

Valedictorian

Miss Cynthia McClure, valedictorian of the Class of 1957, aside from being an honor student, engaged in many other activities. Cynthia played one of the leading roles in the Senior Play, Spring Green; she participated for three years in the Modulus Revue; she was a member of the band for four years; and she was president of Senior Tri-Hi-Y. During her high school years, Cynthia has become quite well known around HHS for her abilities at playing the piano and electric organ. She has an almost perfect academic record and plans to attend Indiana University, where she will major in elementary education. We wish her great success in her future endeavors.

Salutatorian

Mr. Robert Petrie, ranking second in the class, was selected to become Salutatorian. Representing the Senior Class of 1957, he gave the salutatory address in response to the presentation of the Bibles at Commencement.

During his four years at HHS Pete majored in English, Social Studies, and Mathematics with an almost perfect academic record. Among the numerous activities he participated in were Senior Play, Student Council, Choir, International Field Service, and H Club; he was also sports editor of the Modulus during his senior year.

He was a member of Honor Society in his Junior and Senior years and K.B.F. in his Senior year. Pete plans to attend the University of Michigan this fall. Congratulations, Pete!

Cheering Block backed Vikes through defeat or victory.

"Go You Vikes!" is perhaps the best motto for the one hundred twenty-four member cheering block. As morale boosters the red and black sweatered boosters have proved themselves an asset to the team.

Counseling and Attendance work for students' benefit.

The capable heads of our attendance offices are Mr. Gerdes, Dean of Boys, and Mrs. Porter, Dean of Girls. They are assisted in their work of keeping records of tardiness, receiving and filing absentee excuses, making up attendance reports, and so on, by Jane Guhl and Edith Winterholter, Girls' office, and Dianne Guest and Sandra Greider, Boys' office.

In our Guidance Department there is a counselor who calls each student in his group into the office at least once each semester. During this counseling period the student's program is planned, and various types of personal problems are discussed. Our very able counselors and their assitants are Mr. Burke and Rosalind Howett, Seniors; Mrs. Hillegas and Marilyn Fetterhoff, Juniors; Mr. Diffenbaugh and Suzanne Moffitt, Sophomores; and Mrs. Peters, Carole Beerbower, and Betty Fry, Freshmen.

Modulus Staff

We would like to introduce to you the 1957 Modulus staff.

One of the many tasks facing Saundra Lee, our editor, was seeing that the copy, pictures, and budget all finished together and on time. Mrs. Young was our faculty advisor.

Rosalind Howett, copy editor, and her writers—Edith Winterholter, Donna Kastner, Janet Veatch, Janet Floyd, Linda Ware, Jean Carroll, Cynthia McClure, Judy Fouts, Bonnie Caley, Mary Lou Fluke, Nancy Coyle, Judy Ellet, Carol Houser, and Julia Howett—saw that all the copy was done. Typists were Carole Beerbower, Dianne Guest, and Marcia Walker. Thanks to Lee Baker and Dick Lee for their services; Jean Coates and Dick Mitchell, who wrote the clever diary; and to Brema Altman, who compiled the index. Pete Petric, sports editor, kept an accurate account of all sports activities.

Our photographers—Tom Harrell, Larry Barrick, Gvido Lemke, and John Beerbower—became double exposure artists.

The bookkeeping was capably handled by Karen Pratt, business manager.

The advertising staff—Phil Young, Lee Baker, Sue Kiefer, Betty Chesterman, Judy Powell, Polly Palmer, and Dave Gerdes—solicited advertisers. Suzanne Moffitt, circulation manager, was faced with the task of selling the book.

Having achieved our goal—the completion of the 1957 Modulus—we present it to you as a few "Moments to Remember" from HHS.

Football boys battled to give spectators thrills.

The 1956 edition of the Viking football squad, although having more than half of their games recorded in the lost column, were said by many opponents to be "the toughest we've faced." The entire season was one of ups and downs. The Norse started and finished slowly but had a midseason winning streak lasting four games. They were also unpredictable, often upsetting or being upset by an opponent.

Starting slowly, the Vikes dropped their first three games. The first was to Elkhart, who held the Norse scoreless. The Vikes' first home game was with the Marion Giants. Until the final minutes of play the game was tied, but several breaks gave Marion the final tally and the Vikings a heart-breaking defeat.

In their first Central Indiana Conference clash, a blocked conversion on the part of Wabash gave them a triumph over the injury-ridden Huntington eleven.

Against their next three opponents the red and black completely left their three game losing streak behind. On three successive Fridays the Vikings downed Warsaw, Hartford City, and Columbia City.

Then, in their best game of the season, the underdog Vikings handed the C.I.C. leaders, Rochester, their first conference defeat. That night many Viking gridiron fans saw one of the best teams ever to wear the Norse red and black march to victory.

The Vikes then lost all conference championship chances by yielding to Plymouth's pulverizing single win offense.

In the season finale the Norsemen dropped the last game to the Peru Tigers.

Individual honors were bestowed upon several of the Norse lettermen this year. The votes of the entire conference put hard-hitting tackle, Walt Hunnicutt, on the all-conference first team. Lee Baker and Don Passwater received second and third team honors respectively; and Jack Weller, Charlie Johnson, Dick Chalfant, and Jim Weber were given honorable mention. Lee Baker, in his third year at varsity fullback, received the exclusive honor of having scored the highest number of touchdowns in the conference for the season. Baker and Passwater received all-state mention by the U.P. sportswriters.

"B" Team Football

Seeing the everpresent need to fill the shoes of graduating lettermen, Coach Williams has mapped an extensive program to develop abilities in the younger boys. The Huntington "B" team, coached by Ivan Wilhelm and Oscar Naab, closed the season with one win and seven losses.

Viking grid fans need not worry about the immediate future of Huntington's team. Carl "Doc" Seely led a talented, determined freshman team through six games with only one defeat. The frosh beat Peru, Warsaw, New Haven, Marion and Wabash; but were also topped once by Wabash.

Coach Ivan Wilhelm

Coach Ivan Wilhelm participates in many activities both in and out of school. Besides teaching physical education and driver's training, he coaches our Vikings. Coming from H.H.S. in 1947, he graduated from Tulane University in 1952. He spent one year coaching at Bellevue, Ohio, and two years at Peru, Indiana, before coming to Huntington, where he is now in his second year as head mentor. Very calm, optimistic, and pleasant-mannered, he is one of the best-loved teachers at Huntington High School.

Varsity Basketball

The 1956-1957 Viking basketball squad, although turning in a 5 won 15 lost season record, avenged their mid-season losing streak and wound up the season in high gear by bringing to HHS the coveted sectional crown. It seemed that every opponent was "up" for the Huntington game, and in many games the Norse had to face shooting averages up to 45%. They were determined, though, to improve; and Coach Wilhelm worked different team combinations in order to get the "right five" by sectional time.

The red and black jumped to a roaring start by easily downing the Columbia City Eagles. They next ventured to Warsaw, where Huntington fans saw their team barely beaten in a game that was close until the final gun. The following week the Vikes squeaked through another close one, beating Peru in an overtime. The Norse next extended their record to three wins and one defeat by readily topping Alexandria by seven points. The red and black then faced a fast Fort Wayne South Side quintet which outran the visiting Norse. One consolation, however, is that this same Fort Wayne team rolled onward to the state semi-final tournament. In the next three games Huntington wound up on the short end of the scores. The Norse seemingly ran out of steam in the latter part of the games and were defeated by Wabash, Hartford City, and Bluffton. In the last game of 1956, the victorious Vikings rolled over Muncie Burris. In the first session of the Huntington Holiday Tournament, the home team once again failed to beat Wabash. The Apaches scalped the Vikes while Fort Wayne North Side defeated Peru. Wabash won over Fort Wayne for the Tournament crown, and Huntington put Peru in the cellar for a much needed victory.

Next on the schedule were the powerful Marion Giants. Marion took an early lead, but late in the third period the determined Norse stole it and led by four points until the final minutes, when the Giants lived up to their name and marched their way to a victory. This was unquestionably the best Viking game in seasonal play; it was generally believed that a victory here would have put the Norsemen on the road to many more wins. Here the Vikes ran up against a nine game jinx which lasted until the end of the regular season. They were put down by Elwood, Decatur, Fort Wayne Central, Tipton, Plymouth, Logansport, Auburn, and Rochester. It was during this time, however, that Coach Wilhelm was building his great sectional team.

An under-rated Viking squad entered the sectional as the underdog. But soon the Norse made the Huntington County teams sit up and take notice. They sailed through Clear Creek in their first game and reversed the previous year's defeat by whipping the Bulldogs. After downing a tall Union team, the determined Vikings were not to be denied the crown. They doubled the score against Jefferson and finally outran an exhausted Warren team.

In regional play the Vikes failed to blast the lid from the basket and bowed to a red-hot Marion team. The sectional quintet consisted of Scott Hosler, Dick Chalfant, Larry Handwork, and Dick and Bill Mitchell. Other senior lettermen who contributed to the success of the Sea Rovers were Jim Myers, Charles Johnson, and Jack Weller. Back next year will be Jim Weber, Tom Sands, and Jerry Hastings.

Scylding Basketball

This year's Scylding squad had a good season in terms of its record, but an even better one in terms of improvement. Mr. Richard "Doc" Goshorn, in his first year as assistant varsity coach, has piled up an 11 won—8 lost record to his credit. Under his skilled hand the shoulders of the boys became broadened in order to carry the load which will rest upon them next year.

Freshman Basketball

Under the expert training of Coach H. B. Williams, one of the tallest freshman teams Huntington has seen for quite a while compiled an equally amazing 16 won 4 lost record. They were beaten by Marion McCullough twice, Albion once, and Mississinnewa once; all by close scores. The fans of Huntington needn't worry for several years, for there is promise of an equally good and possibly better Norse squad in the years to come.

First Row: Jon Meyers, Kenny Crawford, Glen Fahrnow, Stan Hammel, Ronnie Whitesell, Jim Stonebraker.

Cheerleaders help boost team's morale

"Go you Vikes!" Many times our four cheerleaders—Jean Coates, Judy Musser, Polly Palmer, and Don Bosh—were about the only student representatives to the games played any distance from Huntington. Practicing the clever yells, regardless of whether the Vikes were winning or losing, our cheerleaders were always there boosting the morale of our players; and at the home games they were aided by the colorful cheering block which they capably trained and led.

Scylding Cheerleaders

Wearing snappy outfits of white sweaters, red vests, black felt skirts, and red shoes, Janelle Burkhart and Donna Daly led the cheering block in some very peppy yells. The Scyldings were greatly influenced by their enthusiasm and lack of fatigue during the games.

Janelle Burkhart, Donna Daly.

PROPHECY

Maybe you've noticed in the newspapers, as I have, that two of H. H. S.'s outstanding students, Diana Stouder and Brian Fields, have received an archeologist's scholarship to Egypt to participate in an archeologist's expedition to the tomb of King Tutankhamen in Thebes, Egypt. Of course, they were unable to be with us this evening; but we were able to arrange a closed circuit T.V. hook-up. We now take you to somewhere in Egypt.

Brian: Gee, it's dark in here!

Diana: Maybe we should have followed the party to the right at the last turn.

Brian: Oh well, they know we're in here and if we can't find our way out, they'll come and look for us.

Diana: (Screech) What's that green light? It looks so weird!

Brian: Let's go investigate—Ladies first!

Diana: No thanks! I'll follow you.

Brian walks toward green light, Diana follows. All of a sudden they gasp—unison: "What's that?" (Gasp) "It's moving." Long pause, then Mummy sits up and points an accusing finger at explorers.

Mummy: (weird voice) Who dares to disturb the great King Tut who has slept two thousand years in peace?

Brian: (shaky voice) Who are you?

Mummy: I am the High Priest and Protector of King Tut.

Diana: You mean you're still alive after 2,000 years?

Brian: (aside) Let's go tell the others about this. They turn to leave.

Mummy: Don't go yet. If you tell the others, they will move me and I will crumble to dust. If you promise not to tell them, I, Ka the great prophet, will grant for you one wish.

(Brian and Diana whisper).

Diana: We want you to tell us our future for 1975.

Mummy: I cannot tell you your future, but I can tell you about your friends' future.

Diana: We will see that you are not disturbed if you tell us what our friends in the class of 1957 will be doing in 1975.

Mummy: The universe hasn't changed much since 1957; the stars still whirl crazily in their galaxies; the planets still spin in their orbits ever circling the sun. And the earth still takes 24 hours to revolve on its axis. The tides come and go; the rivers still flow to the sea; and the mountains point their rocky crags to the sky. Humans still think, feel, and see, just as they always have. But there are changes—great changes. In technological and social institutions man no longer wars against himself; the world is at peace, and the standard of living is rising. An atomic-powered subway races madly on its maiden trip from New York to London under the Atlantic Ocean. Mr. Leander Baker, Jr., and Mr. Walter Dale Hunnicutt are the design engineers for the train. As they stroll through the train, they stop to talk to the conductor, Emil Geis, who remarks that there are many celebrities aboard. Don Passwater, the author of the great book entitled "Pep through Poetry;" Clarke Dippell and Maggie Garrison, stars in the new 4th dimension movie "Rebel with a Cause;" the great surgeon, Dr. James Gordon, and his competent nurse, Judy Abbott, are rushing to Europe to correct an acute case of writer's cramp for the Nobel Prize winner, Donna Daly; Karen Pratt, Carole Beerbower, Janelle Burkhart, Phyllis DeSpain, Diane Voght, and Pat Holzinger who are on their way to the Stenographer of the Year Convention; and Judy Powell who is now on her way to London to sing in the Palladium. (Pause) The train is fading out.

Diana: Gee, is this all?

Mummy: No, I see a great snowy crest which has for centuries presented a challenge to climbers. As we pass, we see climbers struggling up the north face of the mighty Matterhorn. The party is led by Richard Meier. The rest of the party consists of Floyd Maxton, Harold Warner, Don Waldron, Jerry Cowin, and Mickey Mueller.

The mist again obscures the scene, but looming through the vaporous film is the steel lattice work of the Eiffel Tower. The president of the Paris Steeple Jack Co., Aaron Biehl, and his diligent but cautious workers, Jim Myers, Don Bosh, John Bechstein, and Jackie Brown are busy painting Eiffel Tower a delicate shade of pink.

I see some familiar faces around a sidewalk cafe nearby. The chef, Larry Phillips, is hurrying the head waiter, Fred Teddy, to the table where they are celebrating I. B. H. week (Le Jour des Personnes Pauvres de Paris.) I hear Kenny Kline make a toast to those present. Other members are Francis Horsley, Dallas Heyde, Harmon Towne, Jaryl Grimes, John Kidd, Forrest Kramer, and the Spath Trio, George, Richard, and Robert. Across the street in the park are Rosalind Howett, Jane Guhl, Julie Sowerwine, and Saundra Lee, governesses walking their charges. The view is obstructed by a black streak which, as it slows down, we discover to be Monsieur Bill Mitchell. He comes to a screeching stop and Susie Perry, Mary Jo Pohler, Ann Fahl, and Linda Ware hop in.

In another section of Paris, I see the famous fashion designer, Ted Dolby, busy instructing his leading models, Jean Ann Coates, Susie Kiefer, Brema Altman, Mary Lou Fluke, Glenna Carroll, and Betty Chesterman. Among the distinguished patrons I see the buyer representing Saks Fifth Avenue, Suzanne Moffitt and her assistant, Jean Carroll. The famous author, Tom Pyle, who wrote the astounding book, "I Care," is conversing with a group of fascinated women, Lynn Hegel Clabaugh, Alice Maybee, Judy Winkelman, Marcia Walker, Rosalyn Wiley, and Donna Smith. The fabulous scenery was made by Janet Sands, Dede Williams, and Mary Anne Elliott. The lights are dimming, and I hear the familiar strains of "Sweet Dianne" written by David Gerdes.

Brian: Are any of our friends at the Follies?

Mummy: No, not the Follies! But I see soft lights and hear the rhythmic beat of the Tres Bang-Bang Combo composed of Blaine Kauffman, Richard Bealer, Beverly Lechleidner, and Donna Safford at a club on the left bank. I see sitting in the audience at a table nearby Kenny Clements, Anna Elser, Sandra Cole, Kenny Devall and Margaret Haneline waiting for the featured famous trio, just in from the Blue Angel in Chicago, consisting of Dick Chalfant, Phil Young, and Kenny Law.

Outside, swimming down the Seine River in an Olympic Swimming Race, are Jerry and George Holtrey in the lead. At the finish line in the officials' booth Jack Weller sits ready to clock the record-breaking swim. Scott Hosler is screeching excitedly over the microphone on station FLUB. Irene Vanover, Doris Story, Lois Stewart, Henrietta Sowder, and Carol Smith are selling concessions to the enthralled fans. Some of the outstanding individuals present are Allen Couch, wealthy member of the Four Hundred of New York; Lynn Steel, who revived the mustache style; Barbara Dickey, private secretary to Susie Fling, the head of Gold Brick Company of America; Betty Fry and Ruth Fahrnow, exchange Physical Education teachers from the U.S.A.; Linda Erickson, Kathryn Fisher, Janet Floyd, Margaret Ann Folk, and Judy Oswalt touring the world lecturing on extinct forms of humanity; and Barbara Morris, a missionary to a newly discovered island named after Atlantis, and her interpreter, Pat Keefer.

Man has long dreamed of traveling in space; his dream is about to become a reality. Just outside the atmosphere of earth whirls the Zahm Wheel, named after the physicist, Dr. Lawrence Zahm. It is to him and his colleagues, Paul Chambers, Roger Weist, Ronnie Foor, Stan Bippus, and Walter Belding, that the world owes their gratitude in that, without their discoveries, man would never have seen space. The space station circles the earth every two hours. Commander Nello Williams paces his cabin floor; he is faced with the decision of whether or not to court martial Lieutenant Robert Petrie, officer in charge of waste disposal on the Sattellite, for non-performance of duty. Sergeant Tom Wilbur, Corporal David Kaylor and Privates Dick Mitchell, Larry Biddle, and Duane Gearhart are also accused by the Commander of incompetence. Commander Williams peers into his viewport, watching the shuttle ships going to and from earth, carrying tons of material needed to build the monster space ship which will travel to Mars. Among the pilots are Stephen Bitner, Jarold Brown, Harold Campbell, and Donna Trout. As the wheel turns, the rocket comes into view through the viewport. Directing the operation, he sees construction engineer, Richard Miller, ably assisted by draftsmen, George Myers, Jerry Wood, Keith Powell, and Marllin Simon. Commander Williams turns away from the viewport and heads toward the barber shop. He stops at the supply counter and asks Geraldine Nall, clerk, for a package of J. R. Prince Snuff; but it seems the supply officer, Willard Smith, fouled up again and forgot to place the order. Commander Williams angrily continues to the barbers, Robert Reedy and Lloyd Maxton, knowing full well they will massacre his locks. As preparations for the expedition are rapidly drawing to a close on the satellite, the moon colony, living in their plastic domes, are completing their preparations for the mission. When the ship is completed, it will travel under its own power to the moon where fuel and supplies will be taken aboard. The Arden Geist Uranium Mines of the moon have been in around-the-clock production for months under the direction of engineers Charles Johnson and Bob Kaltemark, and physicist Janet Thorn. The problems facing the Moon colonists are tremendous because of the lack of atmosphere; thus creating new health problems which are being solved by the Lunar Health Authority at whose head is Cynthia McClure. She is assisted by Drs. Michael Hahnert, Larry Handwork, and Glen Haneline. The space nursing corps is Peggy Loudenback, Karen Rosen, Donna Haney, Ayleth Ruse, Sharon Houser, and Mary Ellen Hoppe. As the preparations are being completed the Lunar Council is in session, deciding upon the many legal aspects of "who will own Mars?" President Robert Rittenhouse is presiding. Among the council members are Sharyon Tappero, Jeanine Sunderman, Rex Solloway, and recording secretary Barbara Spencer, hurriedly scribbling on her scratch pad as the argument rages. Lawyers George Walker and John Wallace are reviewing the case. Elsewhere in Lunar City, Melvin Sander's Photography Studio is busily engaged in preparation for photographing the trip. Among the technicians are Barbara Salter, Sandra Sue Shearer Cozad, and Edith Winterholter.

My powers are failing and the scene is fading, but as the separation in time and space becomes greater, I see man's greatest single achievement slowly forcing its way out of the moon's gravity; man's dream for the stars is finally being fulfilled. He is reaching with his great silver ship toward those very stars about which he has long dreamed. There on the platform is a woman yelling at a man. It is Jennie B. Wilson yelling at Mr. Diffenbaugh. "Stop them, they are spending too much on this project."

Brian: Sh-h-h. I think I hear someone coming.

Diana: If we are to keep our bargain with Ka, we must not be discovered.

Brian: Quickly now, we'll get back to the main passage and meet them before they get here.

The undersigned 1957 Senior Class of Huntington High School, acting by and through its duly constituted Will Committee, all being of sound and disposing mind and memory, and in good health, and acting under no fraud, duress, or undue influence of any kind whatsoever, does hereby make, publish, and declare the following Articles Testamentary, as its Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking any and all former wills:

Charlie Johnson leaves Mr. Johnson saying, "He really isn't mine."

Sue Kiefer leaves with a Baker (not Mr. Neterer).

Floyd and Lloyd Maxton leave people still wondering which is which.

Judy Oswalt bequeaths her quiet ways to Mr. Ware.

Rex Solloway wills his Intra-Mural ability to Bob Branyon.

Judy Abbott sorrowfully leaves behind her stylish stride to Cary Ambrose.

Forrest Kramer leaves still in the woods.

Edith Winterholter wills the organ back to Mr. Slater.

Jerry Wood leaves still in the forest.

Susie Fling gives her face back to Hazel Bishop.

Roger Weist leaves saying, "But Pop, Devall did it."

Barbara Salter wills her Chevy to Jon Williams.

Kenny Devall leaves saying, "But Pop, Weist did it."

Janet Sands wills her artistic ability to Rembrandt.

Scott Hosler wills his 250 pounds of solid muscle to Kay Hunnicutt.

Glenna Carroll leaves hoping her future husband will not Hacker.

Kenny Kline leaves with his pants still on; we wonder how?

Bill "Bing" Mitchell bequeaths his spot on the Huntington College campus to the Biology Club.

Dede Williams wills the art of being a coach's daughter to Leslie Wilhelm.

Lee "Putnam" Baker wills his line smashing ability to Phil Gardner.

Jean Coates leaves her popularity to Pansy Presley.

Ronnie Foor leaves to fly a Kate.

Diana "Scootie" Stouder leaves her letter upstairs in her shirt pocket.

John Wallace wills his '46 convertible to Gordie Thrasher.

Linda Erickson wills her cousin Lief to the Vikings.

Janet Floyd leaves for her water wells.

Bob Rittenhouse leaves with one yet to go.

Donna Smith wills her uncommon name to Jim Stringfellowman.

Bill Smith seconds the motion.

Brema Altman exits eyeing a common name further down the alphabet.

Keith Powell leaves stricken with Stricker.

Jackie Brown wills her Jet Buick to anyone who thinks he can handle it like she can.

Pete "Blodgett" Petrie wills his close friendship with Suzanne Moffitt to Dave Rogers.

Karen Pratt leaves her unsteadiness to Marilyn, who is already on the right track.

Harold Warner leaves for Mercury.

Phyllis DeSpain goes in her jovial manner.

Walter Belding leaves still de-icing his trig.

Alice Maybee wills her sweet ways to Shirley Covey.

Dave Gerdes leaves his father in a state of relief.

Sharyon Tappero leaves her grass skirt to a snake in the grass.

Duane Gearhart and Sonny Simon leave looking for the Camp Fire Girls.

Mary Jo Pohler wills her baton to Mr. McKay for future use on problem students.

Aaron Biehl marches out still declaring he's the only one in step.

Carole "Hippo" Beerbower leaves her red hair for further interest in New Albany boys.

John leaves to be Prince of the roost.

Barbara Spencer wills her bashfulness to Judy Fouts.

Tom leaves a Pyle of varsity cares.

Janie Guhl wills her sun lamp to the next Sunshine president.

George Spath leaves his Model A to anyone who likes to shove.

Saundra Lee wills her editing ability to the Huntington News.

Dick Mitchell bequeaths his fancy dribbling to a leaky faucet in the Chemistry Lab.

Kathryn Fisher leaves in a friendly manner.

Larry Handwork wills his flying elbows to Mike Thomas.

Susie Perry leaves her eye-catching strut to Rex Baker.

Don "Newton" Bosh leaves with Salome and Jumbo in hand.

Pat Keefer wills her joke books to Phil Schilling.

Stan Bippus exits still bribing the girls with Kolatona.

Geraldine Nall leaves her hair-do to the Toni twins.

Phil Young leaves a little older.

Linda "Genevieve" Ware leaves for the Carnival.

Glen Haneline wills his seat in Mr. Johnson's Economics class to Judy Gressley.

Emil Geis leaves still comparing Jim Allman to Sid Caesar.

Barbara Dickey leaves for an appointment with her Barber.

Rosalyn Wiley leaves a little wiser.

Ted Dolby wills his custom job to Diffy.

Henrietta Sowder wills her accent to Desi Arnez.

John Bechstein leaves his truck-driving ability to Jim Weber, who can't do without it.

Janet Thorn wills her mathematical brain to Jerry Adams.

Steve Bitner leaves his bop ability to Phyllis Stouder.

Donna Trout falls out.

Arden Geist wills his lasting friendship with Mr. Buzzard to Earl.

Nancy leaves hoping the Bells will ring.

Jim "Dunk" Gordon sends his "I Like Ike" buttons to Mr. Moreland.

Janelle Burkhart leaves for dinner on the farm.

Mickey Mueller wills his thirty-second walk to school to Bill Gordon.

Jeanine Sunderman leaves with that steady smile.

Harold Campbell wills the flag back to DeMolay after guarding it so carefully.

Doris Story leaves her combat boots for G. I. Joe.

Kenny "Ryan" Law wills his milking chores to our Mayor.

Julie leaves her Sowerwine for the next reception.

Bob Kaltenmark wills his fender to fender friendship with the Police force to Doug Gemmer.

Jean Carroll leaves liking Handwork better than homework.

Dick Bealer leaves with his Physics book still in Diffy's room.

Suzanne Moffitt bequeaths her fan club to Judy Ellet.

Larry Phillips wills his coffee drinking habit to John North, who studies 'til all hours.

Betty Chesterman leaves with a Gordon, but not Jim.

Jim Myers wills his Michigan trips to the Greyhound Bus Company.

Sandra Cole leaves looking for slaw.

Jack Weller leaves to take Fluke lessons.

Donna Haney wills her trimness to Charles McClurg.

Allen Couch is going squirrel hunting with his hound dog.

Donna "Pinkie" Daly leaves haunted by a friendly ghost.

Jerry Cowin exits hastily toward North Manchester.

DIARY

Sept. 4, 1956—Who were those senior girls parked in Mr. Ware's room from 8:00 to 10:00 a.m.? Lockers? ? ?

Sept. 5—It looks like there is a greater number of green cords this year than last.

Sept. 6—The Halloween Dance is getting mighty close and all eyes look toward Switzerland's and HHS's Richard Meier.

Sept. 7—Popcorn! Hot Dogs! Coffee! are the chants heard as the juniors open the season with Marion 13, Huntington 7.

Sept. 10—Pete's back! How's Switzerland?

Sept. 11—Museum? Zoo? Sign up now for the Chicago Railroad Excursion.

Sept. 12—What luck! All boys but one for Senior officers. Kenny Law, president; Dick Mitchell, vice-president; Jerry Holtrey, secretary; and Dede Williams, treasurer.

Sept. 13—Have you noticed the dreamy look on the faces of all those taking Senior Comp. Class? Miss Wilson, what's this about "To Kiss or Not to Kiss?"

Sept. 14—Greenie Day! Did you get your shoes shined? or your suckers, boys? Wabash 14, Huntington 13. What happened to Stan Bippus' dollar!

Sept. 17—All Mondays are blue. Why was Dick Chalfant limping?

Sept. 18—All freshmen were initiated today. The girls were initiated in a beautiful ceremony by the Sunshine Society. The boys had a time in the boys' hall!

Sept. 19—The excursion didn't interfere with school this year, because only about seventy students went from HHS.

Sept. 20—Boy! Mr. Imhoof's sixth period study hall!

Sept. 21—The jinx is over! You see now bad things can't last forever. Warsaw 6, Huntington 27.

Sept. 24—Trouble! A yellow cord skirt waving through the halls on freshman girl. Removed by senior girls.

Sept. 25—What's this, 55 out of 97 students got F's on a Civics test? What happened to the screw driver, Ronnie?

Sept. 26—What does "57" mean on the front of all those brand new jackets, seniors? First call for cheering block.

Sept. 27—Gloomy weather.

Sept. 28—Look out Columbia City; here we come! Hartford City 19, Huntington 27.

Oct. 1—Does anyone have their lessons done on Monday? ? ? ? ? Oh, that's a good question! !

Oct. 2—Why don't we have another auditorium program?

Oct. 3—Stormy weather? This is weather for the ducks!

Oct. 4—Tomorrow is Friday. It takes intelligence to know this.

Oct. 5—Now for the big one! Columbia City 0, Huntington 26.

Oct. 8—The freshmen are acting more confident now and know their way around.

Oct. 9—How we love those auditorium programs!

Oct. 10—NO SCHOOL! ! B.I.E. Day.

Oct. 11—Since the corn starch kept snuffing out the light of the candle, the spark could not ignite the dust. We'll try again. Ah, success!

Oct. 12—Any spark of hope is now burning brightly with the Rochester game. Rochester 9, Huntington 27.

Oct. 15—Now that we're over the hump of the first six weeks, we can worry about the next one.

Oct. 16—Have you seen any Stevenson buttons? I haven't!

Oct. 17—Report Cards! ! ! ! !

Oct. 18—The Halloween pranks are few but not so concerning the Halloween Dance.

Oct. 19—Wait till next year! Plymouth 51, Huntington 14.

Oct. 22—Things were rather quiet today in the halls but not with Jim Weber. Ask him about "S" curves.

Oct. 23—Would you like to buy some stock in a Junior Achievement company? What are we making? Well....................

Oct. 24—Football season was brought to a close with a record of 5 wins and 4 losses. Peru 14, Huntington 6.

Oct. 25, 26—Teachers' Convention. NO SCHOOL! ! ! ! !

Oct. 29—It looks as though the Halloween Dance was a success. Who isn't going steady? ! ! !

Oct. 30—This was the Democrats' day at HHS.

Oct. 31—Mr. Ware, what is the proper way to vote?

Nov. 1—Hurray! and Ike buttons! Republicans' day at HHS.

Nov. 2—Do you think you can vote now, freshmen?

Nov. 5—The Senior Play has been picked and cast. Have you bought a ticket to the play?

Nov. 6—Have they lowered the voting age? Civics class voted!

Nov. 7—Senior boys dressed up? Must be the girls.

Nov. 8—Congratulations to Don Passwater, Lee Baker, and Walt Hunnicutt for making the All-Conference Football Teams.

Nov. 9—Fire! Fire! Does John Stell know anything about fire alarms? ? ?

Nov. 12—Ah! Another glorious Monday after a dull weekend.

Nov. 13—I would certainly like to see the yell leaders do "The Dance of the Sand Piper."

Nov. 14—Syncopation—Uneven movement between bars.

Nov. 15—Attention! Attention! Time: 2:00 p.m. Very loud noise. Room 104. Everyone dropped their books on the floor at the same time. Be on the lookout for guilty freshmen! ! !

Nov. 16—The start of another season of basketball. Hurray! Columbia City 49, Hun--tington 62.

Nov. 19—Where are our name cards? That is the question! ! ! !

Nov. 20—Teachers: "Put away those play books, seniors."

Nov. 21—No peace for Wilbern's shorthand class. Reason: candy bars.

Nov. 22—Isn't anyone taking advantage of Leap Year?

Nov. 23—The Vikes had a tough break at Warsaw. Warsaw 59, Huntington 55.

Nov. 26—Watch out! Miss Wilson is looking for you. Have you enough tickets? Here're ten more.

Nov. 27—What's this? Sleepers in 218 third period!

Nov. 28—Did you see Don "Newton" Bosh in that Romeo outfit and blushing Jerry "Billie" Holtrey in the Senior Play? Wow! ! ! !

Nov. 29—Miss Wilson, I don't have my lesson; I'm in the Senior Play.

Nov. 30—Have you seen "Elvis" Baker? He's perfect! The Vikes are going again, in an overtime with Peru. Peru 61, Huntington 63.

Dec. 3—Winter has come. How do I know? Why, we had snow yesterday. Watch out! Dodge that snowball! !

Dec. 4—Sorry to hear sixth period study hall in 202 was about overcome with the odor of perfume. Where was Bill Mitchell? ! !

Dec. 5—What were all those Santa Claus's for? Oh, favors from the Actuarie Christmas Party. Sounds like fun.

Dec. 6—............................ So what? ! ! ! ! ! !

Dec. 7—Ah! A full weekend. let's go! Alexandria 46, Huntington 53.

Dec. 8—Another night of "Hoosier Hysteria." The night wasn't meant for us, though. Fort Wayne South Side 83, Huntington 57.

Dec. 10—My, my, . . . what tales are these coming back from Purdue!

Dec. 11—Played Wabash here . . . lost. Wabash 52, Huntington 47.

Dec. 12—That lucky choir got out every sixth period this week to sing at the grade schools!

Dec. 13—That singing you hear which has the funny sound isn't the choir, but the language classes practicing.

Dec. 14—Well, we helped Hartford City keep their perfect record. They now have won eight straight. Hartford City 78, Huntington 53.

Dec. 17—Diff's chemistry class. Diff: "Why do you do this to me on Monday?"

Dec. 18—I guess Jim Myers proved something. You can't make all the baskets all the time, and you can't make some of the baskets some of the time. Bluffton 65, Huntington 57.

Dec. 19—Practice boys; we drew Wabash for the New Year's Day Tournament.

Dec. 20—Get your Christmas shopping done later; we've got two weeks vacation this year!

Dec. 21—Shorthand class had a party. Masque & Gavel gave an impressive Christmas play assisted by the choir. Muncie Burris 58, Huntington 68.

Dec. 27—Vacation interrupted for New Year's Day Tournament. Maybe tomorrow? Wabash 63, Huntington 56.

Dec. 28—We came in third and the Wabash Apaches took the crown. Maybe next year? ? We'll see. Peru 63, Huntington 66.

Jan. 4, 1957—Vacation interrupted again for a very close ball game. You'll just have to try a little harder, boys. Marion 51, Huntington 47.

Jan. 7—After two weeks of vacation, students returned with broken legs and arms, bruises, unfinished lessons, sad faces, and new clothes.

Jan. 8—Phil Young! How do you rate? Shorthand class doesn't sing "Happy Birthday" to everyone, you know.

Jan. 9—Dianne Guest has bugs, bugs, and more bugs.

Jan. 10—The Modulus goes up a quarter in two weeks; you'd better get it now.

Jan. 11—The Vikes, as well as the Scylds, lost to Elwood. Elwood 73, Huntington 60.

Jan. 14—As it nears the end of the semester, you see more and more books going home for last minute cramming.

Jan. 15—Defeated again. This time by Decatur. Decatur 87, Huntington 63.

Jan. 16—Books were handed in and the Black List started. Looks like a long one, too!

Jan. 17—School was dismissed at 11:30, but most classes were out by 11:00.

Jan. 18—Report cards were picked up at 12:30 today, and by the looks of the long faces, some people didn't get their credits. Also, we lost another ball game. Fort Wayne Central 95, Huntington 72.

Jan. 21—Now we know what's the matter with the seniors. They're maladjusted! That's why the boys won't sit by the girls.

Jan. 22—Things have settled down into another semester after a mid-year vacation.

Jan. 23—Enrollment! Well, it's only one card today.

Jan. 24—It didn't seem as though there was much of a rush this year for dates to the Sweetheart Dance. I guess everyone is going steady.

Jan. 25—Bye Stouder! Hum, no more first period study hall for Phyllis. Same old word—lost. Tipton 61, Huntington 50.

Jan. 28—From all the talk Twirp Week seems to have gotten off to a pretty good start.

Jan. 29—Does Jim know about last night, Judy? Tell him to ask Jerry and Larry.

Jan. 30—Dance chorus list was posted this morning. I haven't been cut yet, have you?

Jan. 31—Another auditorium program today. How did you like the Norwegian from Columbia City?

Feb. 1—The choir surely had tough luck taking a picture today—the lights and all. Better luck next time.

Feb. 4—What's this? Girls skipping choir? Ho Hum, new angle! !

Feb. 5—Just call Cary Ambrose "Strangler." It seems he is pretty good at it.

Feb. 6—The choir finally got their picture taken without any casualities. Congratulations!

Feb. 7—Have you bought your tickets for the Sweetheart Dance? It looks as though there will be a big crowd this year.

Feb. 8—The decorations are coming along very nicely for the dance. We were defeated at Plymouth. Plymouth 73, Huntington 64.

Feb. 9—Cupid shot his arrows tonight at the Sweetheart Dance.

Feb. 11—Announcement: Varsity cheerleaders please come to the office. What's up? Could it be the glasses? Thieves?

Feb. 12—Happy birthday, Abraham Lincoln!

Feb. 13—It is just one week until the drawing for the sectional, but we lost another game. Keep your fingers crossed. Logansport 87, Huntington 63.

Feb. 14—Did you send your sweetie a sweet, soothing, serious, soft series of syllables commonly called a valentine? You should have.

Feb. 15—There was quite a gang at the last away basketball game of the season to see us defeated in a tremendous game. Auburn 65, Huntington 60.

Feb. 18—This is your chance to show your school spirit. Put a jingle or poem in the H Club box in the hall.

Feb. 19—Are your fingers still crossed?

Feb. 20—Between the Ball State Choir and the Lohman Allen Trio we should be very music-minded. Besides that, Huntington drew Clear Creek to play the first night second game of the sectional.

Feb. 21—Buy a grade school tourney ticket. Anyway, even if you don't care who wins, you still get out of school.

Feb. 22—The Vikes finished the season with a 5 won 12 lost record. Good luck in the sectional! Rochester 87, Huntington 75.

Feb. 25—Big plans are being made for the sectional. Come on and join the fun! !

Feb. 26—Have you seen the dummy in Mr. Ware's room? No? ! ! Well, it's the one up front; the intelligent looking one.

Feb. 27—We sure won the first one! "Sorry, teach, but no more studying this week." Clear Creek 60, Huntington 75.

Feb. 28—Mr. Shriner, what do you think of Union's chances?

March 1—This is it! Come on and use some of the school spirit from the pep session and snake dance. Union 53, Huntington 65.

March 2—Congratulations, boys! ! ! We won the big ones. Jefferson 26, Huntington 52. Warren 42, Huntington 75.

March 4—We did it, everybody! Now for the regional. Good luck, boys!

March 5—The weather is surely wonderful. Looks like track will start before long.

March 6—Flunk anything? This is sure an awful time for those things (report cards) to come out.

March 7—So that's how you get out of school! Get on the basketball team and then you can go to Marion on school time.

March 8—Were you embarrassed at the pep session, Polly? Tomorrow we're on our way to the regional. Watch out, Marion!

March 9—I guess our Vikes weren't meant to win the regional after all. Marion 77, Huntington 43.

March 11—What's the matter, Stan? Don't you like your lab partner, or are you just trying to do away with the chemistry lab?

March 12—Ah! Spring is here. You can tell because Coach Williams has his "road runners" warming up for the track season.

March 13—That poor freshman; now what is he going to do, since you junior boys broke the chain on his bike?

March 14—The eyes of Porter are upon you, Rosalind. Don't try to play hooky again. Oh, you didn't. That's not what I overheard.

March 15—Nothing like a good old fist fight to cool off. Who won? Ask Mark or Dennis.

March 18—The Old Vikes vs. New Vikes game proved something. An old horse ain't a dead one. Oh, well, the seniors wish you good luck next year, anyway. Old Vikes 81, Future Vikes 48.

March 19—If the sextet laughs during the Modulus Revue performances as they did at dress rehearsal, the whole auditorium will be in stitches.

March 20—It seems as if the Easter bunny came early last night to some of the teachers and brought them brand new mint green desks. Congratulations to Janiece Smith for achieving the title of "Miss Modulus." She sold more tickets than anyone else.

March 21—Congratulations to Scott Hosler for making All-Conference Third Team, and also to Dick Chalfant and Dick Mitchell for receiving honorable mention.

March 22—Our thanks to Mrs. Young, Mr. Day, Mr. Slater, Miss Oyer, and all the others who helped to make this year's Modulus Revue such a huge success.

March 25—We had very little class time this morning with Steeple Jacks and the Northwestern University Male Glee Club performing for us.

March 26—I thought spring was here! By the looks of the weather we can go sliding again.

March 27—The track team, instead of running, is having snowball fights!

March 28—Ho hum! Nice Day? !

March 29—It seems rather funny not to have any more basketball games.

April 1—There they go, Willie. How do you think your protegees will do in the big, cold, cruel, working world? Tab Hunter gave a performance at school today! April fool! ! !

April 2—Congratulations to those who made Junior and Senior Honor Societies. This is a good achievement for anyone.

April 3—This is our first track meet. Good luck, boys. Whoops, snow came; no track meet. SNOW! ! ! ! !

April 4—Congratulations and thanks to the Senior Class for their variety of gifts which they gave to Huntington High School. NO SCHOOL today since the weather was so bad. This is the life!?!?

April 5—Miss Luther's Ga Ga Girls had their banquet this evening. The girl athletes of the school really shine now.

April 8—You know, it's wonderful what Mr. Slater can do with the choir when you stop to think of what he has to work with! !

April 9—They were once Mr. Wilhelm's worry; now, with their driver's licenses, they are ours. Of course, we are only teasing.

April 10—The Junior Varieties is only a smaller version of the Modulus Revue; but, of course, the Modulus Revue is a little bit better.

April 11—It seems the Actuarie Reception will be quite a success with the terrific program and the beautiful decorations. The Easter bunny is coming early to the library.

April 12—The guidance department does care about us. Dr. Liddle is doing a wonderful job with us. Those corsages are sure cute, librarians.

April 15—Good luck to the contestants from HHS in the Speech Contest.

April 16—Mrs. Peters, are those juniors giving you a rough time during fourth period????

April 17—But he can't flunk me! At least he'd better not. I would like to graduate some day, wouldn't you?

April 18—The Holy Week Services have been very nice.

April 19—Good Friday—NO SCHOOL. Most of us could be found in our churches that afternoon, though.

April 22—This week is going to be just like every other one . . . I can tell . . . it started out on Monday and will end on Friday just like it always does . . . how monotonous.

April 23—Do you boys ever study in that study hall? Stringfellow, Weber, and Handwork, you never talk, do you???

April 24—Better return those report cards if you value citizenship cuts.

April 25—What is Diff going to do without Suzanne and Linda to entertain the boys in physics class next year? Maybe someone else will come along, Diff.

April 26—Have you seen some of the darling gifts that the peanut pals received during Peanut Week? I always enjoy this week each year.

April 29—Nothing much going on except for the juniors. They seem pretty hep about spending money on the seniors. Wow! Should be nice this year.

Anril 30—Tuesday followed Monday—you know I think it must be a habit. Mother says it was the same way when she was a girl.

May 1—The SSS are working again from the looks of the baskets on the teachers' doors. Happy May Day!

May 2—That was a very good film yesterday. It seemed everyone enjoyed "Our Mr. Sun."

May 3—Whoopee—I just got an idea for my term paper. It's about time, don't you think?

May 6—Can't wait to see what the Will and Prophecy say about me. Honest, kids, I've led a good life. Don't you believe me?

May 7—Don't forget the track meet this evening. After all, we've got a very good team.

May 8—It seems I've missed everyone's birthday this year, so I'll say it now, "Happy Birthday"! ! !

May 9—These days you don't find students in school. They're all on the steps; the weather is too nice for anything else.

May 10—Come on, boys. Let's show them all that we can beat them in track, too.

May 13—Well, seniors, if you wanted to graduate, it's too late now to start working.

May 14—Have any of you snoopy seniors heard about the Reception plans; or should I say, is there anyone who hasn't? Do you think Willie's garage is big enough?

May 15—I see some of the seniors are bound to make their last week here miserable for everyone else.

May 16—Clean out that locker, Sue and Jean. I'd be ashamed of such a mess.

May 17—The Sunshine Society put on a beautiful ceremony for the Senior Breakfast.

May 19—Baccalaureate today. That music always gets me.

May 20—It seems funny not to have a few seniors in the halls. I miss them, how about you????

May 21—The Modulus staff has nothing to do but sit back and wait for the printer to deliver the books. And finish the supplement.

May 22—If you marked in that book with ink, Jim Weber, you'd better buy it. Just try to explain that to Betty.

May 23—How many locker keys do you have? You are only supposed to rent one locker.

May 24—Commencement today. Thanks loads, juniors. It was a beautiful Reception, and may your senior year be all of what our senior year was.
